Canon Theologian. Bishop Mark Bourlakas has asked me to serve as Canon Theologian for the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia. As Canon Theologian I will explore topics of thinking about God in mission in papers that will be circulated around the diocese and made available for reading and discussion in parishes. I will from time to time offer classes and workshops on elements of our theological tradition and how they can guide our present mission. And I will be available for questions about specific things that may come up as parishes reflect on where you see God at work and long to join God in working. This new role brings together several things I've already been doing in the diocese, and will coexist with my principal role as Trinity's rector. For more about this role, see this article on the parish website. Fr. Paul

Unity Prayer Breakfast: Sat. Feb. 10 at 9am. St. Paul's UMC, 2000 Shutterlee Mill Rd, Staunton. The speaker will be Dr. John W. Kinney of Virginia Union University. Trinity has purchased tickets and they are available at our office, free to you! 886-9132 or communications@trinitystaunton.org. Inclement weather date is Feb. 17.

"Threads of History: Conversations with a Community" visually records the recollections of students and teachers from Booker T. Washington High School and past and present residents of the West Johnson Street neighborhood during the time of segregation and what happened after integration in 1966. The stories of this black community were recorded and filmed by the students from Mary Baldwin University. The documentary will be shown by Trinity on Sunday, February 11th at 1 pm in the Foster Room. There will be refreshments and a discussion. So please come and bring your friends. If you have any questions, please contact Ginger Warrick at gingerwarrick@gmail.com or at 540-886-1195.
